CURRICULUM SUMMARY

I am a web developer and designer with 4 years of experience, I turn each problem into a technological solution, I believe in the enormous help of technology for the success of a company or activity. My logic is computer science, I am self-taught, I want to be able to continue advancing in the study of programming languages that allow me to contribute more and in a better way. I focus on personal and professional development, always eager to learn and have a good attitude when facing challenges. I have always liked the study of systems and their development, this natural passion is what led me to study Computer Science to be able to perform professionally as I like. That is why what I am looking for is a job that allows me to grow and generates stability in order to create a long-term relationship and contribute all my knowledge, as well as acquire it.
